EXHIBIT C — SUMMARY OF PRESS AND PUBLISHED MATERIAL

Beneficiary: Mireille Sato-Adeyemi (p/k/a MIRA SATO)

Petitioner: Kestrel Line Artists, LLC

Prepared: January 14, 2025

Seven published items are relied upon. Full clippings, where obtained, are at the Tab indicated. Where the publisher has not yet supplied readership data, that is stated in the notes column rather than estimated.

C-1 — THE ARDENMOOR REVIEW

- Headline: "Sato's Tidewater Requiem rewires what an opera pit can do"
- Author: Bertrand Achebe-Lindqvist, senior music critic
- Date: 22 September 2023
- Type: Full critical review, approx. 1,400 words, of which roughly half discuss Ms. Sato-Adeyemi's score and live electronics by name
- Clipping: Tab C-1a (complete page, print edition, p. 34)
- Publication evidence: Tab C-1b — 2023 media kit and audited circulation statement from the Verified Print Audit Council: average weekly print circulation 148,300; national distribution across 41 states; the kit describes the readership as general-interest arts subscribers.

C-2 — SONICS QUARTERLY

- Headline: "The room is the instrument: a conversation with Mira Sato"
- Author: Delphine Okonjo-Strand
- Date: 1 November 2022
- Type: Six-page profile and interview, entirely about the beneficiary and her working method
- Clipping: Tab C-2a (complete article, Issue 97, pp. 22–27)
- Publication evidence: Tab C-2b — publisher's statement confirming Sonics Quarterly is a subscription trade journal for composers, producers and sound designers, founded 1996, paid subscribers 11,400 across 28 countries, with institutional subscriptions at 63 conservatories and university music departments.

C-3 — CASCADIA CULTURE LEDGER

- Headline: "Golden Compass goes to Canadian composer"
- Author: Not credited (unsigned staff item)
- Date: 21 August 2022
- Type: News brief, approx. 90 words, reporting the festival award; the beneficiary is named once
- Clipping: Tab C-3a — excerpt only. The petitioner holds a transcription of the item; a copy of the full page has been requested from the newspaper's archive service and had not arrived at the time of filing.

- Publication evidence: none on file. Circulation and readership data for the Cascadia Culture Ledger were requested from the publisher on 9 December 2024; no response had been received at the time of filing.

C-4 — CASCADIA CULTURE LEDGER

- Headline: "A requiem for the tideline, and a new voice in the pit"
- Author: Renske Villalobos-Hart
- Date: 19 September 2023
- Type: Critical review, approx. 900 words; discusses the beneficiary's score in three paragraphs
- Clipping: Tab C-4a (complete page, print edition, p. C6)
- Publication evidence: none on file — see the note at C-3 above; the same request covers both items.

C-5 — HOLLOWDRUM

- Headline: "Sixty-five minutes, one performer, no exits: Mira Sato closes Nordlys"
- Author: Marisol Quintero-French
- Date: 22 August 2022
- Type: Online review of the Main Stage closing performance, approx. 700 words, entirely about the beneficiary's set
- Clipping: Tab C-5a — URL and dated screenshot of the first screen only. The article sits behind the publication's subscriber wall; a full-text copy has been requested from the editor.
- Publication evidence: none on file. Hollowdrum does not publish audience or traffic figures, and the petitioner has not obtained an independent ranking of the outlet.

C-6 — WAVELENGTH DIARIES

- Headline: "Notes from the Thornfield night"
- Author: Mira Sato
- Date: 3 December 2023
- Type: Essay describing the Thornfield Prize ceremony and the composition of Tidewater Requiem
- Clipping: Tab C-6a (complete post, printed from the archive)
- Publication evidence: Wavelength Diaries is the beneficiary's own subscriber newsletter, written and published by her. It is included as a first-hand description of the work, not as independent press.

C-7 — VERITY HALL STAGE NOTES

- Headline: "Meet the composer: Mira Sato on writing for the tideline"
- Author: Ines Halloran-Pike, Verity Hall communications office
- Date: 6 September 2023
- Type: Pre-opening interview posted to the venue's own blog
- Clipping: Tab C-7a (complete post, printed from the archive)
- Publication evidence: Verity Hall Stage Notes is published by Verity Hall, the venue that presented Tidewater Requiem and the home house of Ostrander Contemporary Opera.
